It's not just people who think this is a great place to live...

Our wildlife residents are just as important to us as the human ones.

The Queen Elizabeth Country Park provides interesting paths over wetlands, with many boardwalks, benches and new tree planting to provide an exciting place for informal recreation. Hedge and native scrub planting, natural meadow grassland and marginal aquatic planting have also been included to provide biodiversity for wildlife.

The design encompassed bollard lighting only at intersections to limit effects on wildlife. The park is suitable for walking and exercising dogs whilst other green spaces of the development will have cycling facilities. Once established it will be a stunning addition to the area, providing local nature walking opportunities and protecting habitats.

Remus Management Limited have various responsibilities within the development. These are as follows: landscape maintenance to include the sport pitches and pavilion, arboriculturist, road cleaning and drainage maintenance, play equipment inspection and maintenance.
